

SrA Robbie Arp

Born and raised in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, just a half hour outside of Cleveland; SrA Robbie Arp has a knack for the “off the wall”, an avid extreme sports enthusiast and lover of all things rad. A broadcast Producer by trade, Arp has been stationed at Lajes Field in the Azores; Keflavik, Iceland; and currently resides at the Defense Media Activity in San Antonio, TX, as the Anchor of “Around the Air Force”.

An award winning broadcast-journalist, SrA Arp looks for the personality in his topic and finds a way to inject a little of his own into the situation, an experience sure to catch the attention of his viewers, leaving them either saying “This guy is funny” or “This guy is Stupid”. Either way, his lack of shame puts him in a prime position to entertain.

If you tune in to “For the New Guy”, you’ll definitely see SrA Arp acting stupid, or in his case, acting normal, finding fun and adventure, and good old fashioned info, spun up in classic Arp fashion; Totally Rad!
